

Construction Industry Induction Application Form

Please note: Unfortunately, we are unable to accommodate attendees who have not made a valid booking. If you attend a course without having returned this form, along with the required payment, you will be unable to complete the training.

From July 1st 2008 all Construction Industry Induction Training – Red Cards – will be issued by WorkSafe, and will be known as a Construction Induction Card. As of this date, a person must not undertake construction work at a workplace unless they are registered, or taken to be registered to perform that work, as detailed in Part 5.1 of the Occupational Health and Safety Regulations 2007.

The C.F.M.E.U. will continue to deliver the training, and has been instructed by WorkSafe to collect payment on behalf of each course participant to cover the cost of WorkSafe issuing the Red Card. The cost of the training is now $130.00 and must be paid in full with this application.

On the day, please make sure of the following:

Be on time:	You will not be deemed to have completed the training if you do not attend the entire day – from 8.00am through until 3.30pm
Bring photo identification:	This is a strict requirement. Trainers will not be able to confirm your attendance without the presentation of valid photo identification
Confirm your booking details:	Check your booking details prior to the course for the location and date. This is particularly important as bookings cannot be transferred or refunded owing to location or time confusion.

As the Regulations now state that an individual must be supervised on a construction site until the completion of the training, it is highly recommended that the applicant attends the training on the date that will be provided to avoid any inconvenience non-attendance may cause.
